

Anticipated Completion Date

Each project your firm submits to the IIDA Index must have an Anticipated Completion Date, defined as the date your firm believes the client will take occupancy of the completed project. The Anticipated Completion Date must be indicated as Month/Year (MM/YY).

It is understood that the Anticipated Completion Date will not always match the Actual Completion Date.