

Project Number

Each project your firm submits to the IIDA Index must have a unique Project Number. The Project Number may be your company's internal Project Number or it may be an external numbering scheme that your company develops.

It is important that a Project Number never changes and is never repeated for the life of your participation in the Index.